states and from America to Russia. In connection therewith a single budget of seven billions of dollars was voted for the world war. The expenditures now being made to preserve civilization make all that has been given to Christian missions seem small. We are learning anew that great goals are worthy of great gifts.

There are various ways of coming into contact with the foreign mission field. Some of us may touch it with our hands, gathering the ripe grain for the King's garner; others of us may touch it only through the contribution box—the point of contact is our gifts; still others reach the regions beyond by way of the mercy seat; they are the Christians whose prevent. headlines of the newspapers nowadays

Some of us may touch it with our hands, gathering the ripe grain for the King's garner; others of us may touch it only through the contribution box—the point of contact is our gifts; still others reach the regions beyond by way of the mercy seat; they are the Christians whose prayers constantly ascend for the cause of missions. The first of these means is a privilege granted only to a few; the other two rest as a duty upon every follower of the Savior of the world.

The command to give is as imperative and divine as the command to go.

The Baptist Ministers' Association of the District of Columbia at a recent meeting enthusiastically indorsed the project of a National Roger Williams Memorial Church, also a statue of the great founder of the Baptist denomination, to be located on the present site of the Immanuel Baptist Church.

The cost of the church and staue, while not definitely decided upon, may reach $250,000 or $300,000. It is pointed out that no memorial of national proportions has been erected to the memory of Roger Williams, and also that the National Capital is the most fitting location for such a structure. The present site of Immanuel Church is also thought by manuel Church is also thought by manuel Church in the size of children's day. At the intersection of Columbia road and 16th street, overlooking the entrance to Rock Creek Park, it is pointed out, it would possess natural advantages of beauty unsurpassed by any church edifice in the District. On Thursday evening, at a meeting in Immanuel Church, a full report from the two national organizations will be made and steps taken for the furtherance of the project.

"An evening with the choir" will be given at North Capitol M. E. Church tomorrow at 3 p.m. A select musical program will be choir under the direction of William K. Cohen, organist. An orchestra will render a number of selections.

Dort the work of the gospel is as direct and as real as the obligation upon the few to preach the gospel themselves. We fiatter ourselves that our giving is liberality, and that it rather makes the Lord our debtor. The truth is we ought to give; it is our plain duty to do so, and failure to give would mean a violation of our levalty to Christ.

The Bible classes of the Concordia Evangelical Church entertained their friends Thursday evening at a social meeting. A short program was given. Miss Matilda Kolb sang a solo and Henry B. Thaden gave a violin rendition. Albertus N. Schroeder, president of the Baraca class, rendered several humorous readings and several members of the Philathea class, under the direction of Misses Christine Morgenweck and Lilly Baier, presented a short play entitled "A Pan of Fudge." Those in the cast were Misses Lillian Hermann, Cora Feldkamp, Hildegarde Qeedin, Elsie Krieg, Freda Ockershausen and Louis Neikirk.
